The One Price System.

IS IT RIGHT, OR IS IT WRONG?

Stores of the first class in every community in the land adhere strictly to one price. The Bowery stores do not. In Wheeling it's different.

AN EXAMPLE:

A certain lady in this city last week related her experience at one of our first class stores. In looking at suits she was asked $50 for a handsome suit; before she went out it was offered to her for $40. Lo and behold! when she arrived home the suit was there, with a note saying they were very anxious to sell her the suit, and would make the price $32.

QUERY:

Was the suit marked $50 anticipating a prospective discount sale?

THIS STORE
ADHERES STRICTLY TO ONE PRICE.

Every article is marked in plain figures. We invite critical inspection, and will gladly send goods on memo. Probably a little investigation will show that some stores are adding on 30 per cent, preparing to give off—what?

There will be no
discount sale here.

BRIEF MENTIONINGS.

Events in and About the City Given in a Nutshell.

Grand to-night—"Just Before Dawn."

Matinee at the Grand this afternoon.

The funeral of the seven-months-old son of Louis Weidel will occur this afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the family residence on South Jacob street. Interment will take place at Mt. Zion.

Miss Mollie Shuttler's Thursday night dancing class was opened auspiciously at the Carroll Club auditorium last evening. There were about one hundred couples present and a highly enjoyable evening was spent in dancing to the excellent piano music of Miss Elizabeth Gundling.

The Hub has fitted out the following political clubs with uniforms, all of the Republican clubs selecting the Rough Rider suits: Washington, Ritchie, Centre, Benwood and Moundsville Rough Riders; Moundsville Republican club, three Martin's Ferry Republican clubs and the Washington and Webster Democratic clubs.

Special services preparatory to the administration of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, on Sunday, will be held in the First English Lutheran church, on Sixteenth street, this evening, at 7:45. The services on Sunday will be of more than ordinary interest, for it is the annual harvest home communion. There will also be a rally of the Sunday school in the afternoon at 2:15.

The Circuit Court.

In case of George Arkie vs. J. Jack-obuel yesterday, before Judge Melvin, of the circuit court, the trial before a jury resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $24.92. There was a motion for a new trial.

The Criminal Court.

In the criminal court yesterday, in the case of the state vs. George Day, there was a plea of guilty and the defendant was sentenced to seven days in jail.

There was a final decree in the case of William McCrady, et al, vs. George Hogg and others.

Notable Colored Wedding.

The nuptials of Edwin Coffman and Miss Mamie F. Jennings, both prominent in colored circles of this city, occurred at the Simpson M. E. church last evening. There was a large crowd of friends and relatives of the young couple at the church to witness the ceremony. After the ceremony a reception was held at Mandolin hall.

In the Justice Shops.

In Squire Greer's court yesterday, H. D. Hoffman, the South Eoff street confectioner, had a warrant issued for Corn Peeler, charging her with breaking into his stable. She will have a hearing this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Joseph Meisel was arrested on a warrant issued several months ago by Mrs. O. Jones, charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses. He is alleged to have obtained $5.00 from her as an advance payment on a picture, but he never delivered the picture. He was sent to jail in default of bond of $100, for a hearing Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

In Squire Srolowitz's court, the case of the state vs. Ed. Mooney was heard. He was charged by William McCune, of the Taylor Republican club with appropriating $25 of the club's money. Mooney represented himself as soliciting money for the club, and used it for his own purposes. He was held to the grand jury in the sum of $300 bond.

In Justice Fitzpatrick's court, Jennie Ray, colored, was given $1 and costs on a disorderly charge. Lena Williams swore out the warrant.

WE challenge any school in the state, teaching a position-writing system of shorthand to show the same results in one month, two months, three months, or four months that we can with the Gregg system in the same length of time.

THE SALVATIONISTS

Preparing for a Celebration of the Harvest Season, Beginning To-Morrow and Continuing to Tuesday.

Preparations are going on in the busy camps of the Salvationists all over the United States to fittingly celebrate the Harvest season by a series of festivals, which are intended according to Biblical precept, to give expression to the gratitude of the nation for the blessing of harvest. The dates are Saturday, September 29 to Tuesday, October 2.

Last year's harvest festival was the most successful in army history, and with the increased experience reaped and the continually perfected organization of the effort, the local officers are confident that this year even the previous high-water mark shall be exceeded.

As is generally known, the income from the harvest festival is entirely devoted to home work. The complex philanthropic and spiritual operations carried out by the organization continually drain its financial resources to the utmost. The army's field lies among a class of people who are not very well able to support it, and consequently special arrangements have to be made from time to time to meet the ever pressing requirements. One of the principal of these is the harvest festival.

The people of this and other cities will have no lack of opportunity to assist. The scope of contributions asked for is wide enough to offer no escape for anybody. Gifts of poultry, of garden produce, of fruit, of groceries, even of live stock will be welcomed, and the officers and soldiers offer their services gratuitously in gathering in the stores.

A more or less artistic display will be made of the articles in the barracks, and for three days songs of praise will resound as did those of the Israelites of old in the midst of the beautiful gifts of nature, perhaps accompanied by the squealing of some well-fed pig or the more scriptural crowing of a rooster.

AMUSEMENTS.

The musical farce entitled "Miss Kilder," will be presented by Miss Flo Irwin, and an excellent supporting company at the Opera House, Monday and Tuesday, October 1 and 2. The story of the play deals with the adventures of a young man of aristocratic family, who falls in love with a pretty photographer, who has neither wealth nor family. It is the plotting of these two young lovers and their efforts to convince the young man's family that the girl can claim ancient lineage that furnishes the hilarity and brings out the fun-making capacity of the various members of the company. Miss Irwin, who has not forgotten how to sing coon songs, finds several opportunities for her introduction. She keeps the whole place cracking with her wholesome fun-making so much so that the other members of the company are enthused and all work together for the hearty amusement of the audience. In addition to Miss Irwin there will be found in the cast, Walter Hawley, John F. Ward, Lillian Brainerd, Arthur Ellery, Collin Varrey, Irving R. Walton, Louise Bates, Alleen May, John F. Birch, Madeline Temple, Thomas E. Whitebread, Walter Irving, E. Grant Gibson, Elinor Blanchard, William D. Evans, William E. Butterworth, Edwin C. Lloyd, Helen Drew, Ethel Ross Ring, and Marie B. Howard.

"At the White Horse Tavern."

King & Norcross will present "At the White Horse Tavern" at the Opera House Wednesday, October 3. This comedy from the German, which has been well received by American theatre-goers in all the cities visited, comes with the endorsement of a high character. Unlike most German comedies, it is said that it possesses none of the farcical elements. It depends on logical and natural developments for its laughs—developments, however, that are described as surprising as they are amusing. The scene is in the Austrian Alps, in a little mountain inn, where lovelick tourists and the red-cheeked hostess take part in no less than four heart affairs.

A Large Show.

One of the largest and best popular priced companies on the road will be at the Grand all next week, commencing Monday evening, the Huntley-Jackson stock company. This is their third season on the road and they have gained an enviable reputation by giving the popular priced patrons of the theatre something new and a novelty, presenting the largest scenic plays with all care and detail, a carload of special scenery, effects, lights and etc. "The Fatal Card," "Innocent Sinner," "For Liberty and Love," "Just Before Dawn," "The Tornado," "Michael Strogoff" and "The World" are several of the largest scenic plays. They carry everything for these plays, the same as when they were played at high prices.

And Still They Come.

And still they come—to the Grand Opera House every afternoon and evening this week to witness the high grade performances by the Macauley-Patton company in repertoire. Thursday afternoon a large matinee audience saw "A Wasted Life" put on in good style, while the evening presentation of "Peaceful Valley" was witnessed by an audience that tested the capacity of the theatre. The engagement continues the remainder of the week. Today's bills: Matinee, "The Inside Track"; evening, "Just Before Dawn."

TASTE for the beautiful makes you appreciate these.

THE Court Reporting System of Stenography has never been thrown out of a single school in which it was given a trial and hundreds are now using it. No other system now being taught in this state but has been thrown out of good schools, not far from Wheeling, after having been given an honest trial. Want of practicability is the cause. THE U. S. COURT

The Grand Jury Reports Thirteen Indictments, Some of Which are Not Made Public—Several Cases Were Heard and Sentences Pronounced.

The United States court grand jury made its report yesterday afternoon, bringing in thirteen indictments, some of which were reported to the court on Wednesday. The others are not made public. Seventy-two witnesses were before the grand jury.

In the case of F. L. Maxwell, charged with sending obscene matter through the mails, there was a trial to a jury. Maxwell confessed his guilt and was sentenced to serve ninety days in jail.

In the case of Frank Mullins, from Huntington, charged with uttering and passing counterfeit money, the defendant was found guilty and was sentenced to serve five years in the penitentiary. Millions informed Judge Jackson that he would never live out the sentence, and claimed that he was dying from consumption and heart trouble. Judge Jackson sent for Dr. Megrill, who made an investigation of the man's condition, and upon the physician's report will depend the action of the court, who stated that he would modify the sentence if the man's story was borne out.

In the case of Sam Crabtree, charged with robbing the postoffice at Sidney, in Wayne county, the defendant confessed and was sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $25.

In the case of Chiswell vs. Swift & Co., a demurrer to the declaration was filed, and the case continued.

In the case of Joshua Shepperd, of Wileyville, Wetzel county, charged by William Montgomery with raising $1 bills to bills of higher denominations, a plea of not guilty was entered, and the case was continued on demurrer. Shepperd gave bond in the sum of $1,000.

IN our plan of shorthand the student learns every outline from the first just as always used and we have very, very few word-signs. In other systems, the student first learns the long outlines for all words, but later must unlearn these and commit a very, very long list of word-signs and contractions before he is able to get speed for office work. This is why our students graduate and get to work in so much shorter time than students from other schools.

The Old and the New.

Writing shorthand on, above and below the line to indicate vowel sounds, was a practice followed by students of Tyro during the days of Julius Caesar. Things have improved since then. Gregg's shorthand is founded on the English alphabet and is written with the same freedom, very long list of word-signs and contractions before he is able to get speed for office work. This is why our students graduate and get to work in so much shorter time than students from other schools.
